Broadway Production Replaces Old Revue; Group Will Pick Play

Plans are underway for the 1953 Tom Tom Revue.

A committee of three faculty members and three students met Monday night to plan for the annual revue. Instead of an originally-written student-production, this year's performance will be a a selected Broadway musical comedy.

Four Play Choices

The Monday night meeting narrowed the field of possible choices to four. Under consideration at present are "Girl Crazy," "Hit the Deck," "Anything Goes" and "Tinian's Rainbow."

The Revue will be held Feb. 21 and 22. Tryouts are scheduled following Christmas Vacation.

Student directors will handle the production. Professors Clark, Brewer and Fiester will serve as advisers.

In order to display outstanding student-talents, the committee said that specialty acts featuring students will be worked into the framework of the play.

Fairly Talent Show

Last year, a student team of Berkley Forsythe and Roland Klopfleisch wrote, produced and directed "Audrey," an original musical comedy.

Originally, the Tom Tom Revue was a student talent show. After preliminary tryouts, student directors were selected. Those directors chose talent material and wrote continuity for the various

Adult Choir, Concert Band Give Programs Tomorrow

A double treat is in store for night school and day school students tomorrow. The Adult Education Choir will make its first public appearance in a school and public convocation at 8:30 p. m. in the auditorium. The day school students will hear the third annual Christmas Pops Concert presented by the University Concert Band under the direction of Dr. Robert W. Fiester.

'Old, New' Theme

"Christmas—Ancient and Modern" will be the theme of the evening convocation. The choir will open the program singing "Bethlehem Night" by Arthur Warrell, "Break Forth O Beauteous Heavenly Night" by Johann Bach and will feature Juanita Sigler, June Cross, William Arnold and Charles Bomgardner.

Flutist solos by Eileen Brewer and Kay Fiester will be played in the "Happy Flocks in Safety Wonder" by Bach. Other selections are "Why Do Nations Rage?" from Handel's "Messiah," "Holly and the Ivy" by Robert Baughton and "Carol of the Bells" by Leontovich.

Several Soloists

From "Appalachian Mountains," Eileen Brewer will be soloist in "I Wonder as I Wander" by John Jacob Niles. Lenore Topinka and Raymond Krager will be soloists in the Negro spiritual, "Behold, A Star," arranged by William Dawson. The final number will be "Winter Wonderland," arranged by Ringwald and featuring Raymond Krager. Clifford Soubier will be narrator of the program.

Following the program, Christmas Carols will be sung. All evening classes will be dismissed at 8:15 p. m.

The adult choir was organized in September by Richard Brewer, professor of music and director of choral work, and has 40 students currently enrolled in the class.

The Pop Concert will feature "Adestes Fideles," "White Christmas," and "Jesu Bambino." The band will accompany the audience in singing familiar Christmas carols. In response to the many requests, the band will close the program by playing "Jingle Bells Rhapsody" by Walters.

The program will be held at 8:30 a. m. in the auditorium. Classes will be dismissed. The schedule will be as follows: 8:30-45, 8:50-9:20, 9:30-10:20, convocation, 10:30-11:10, 11:15-11:50.

The same program will be presented by the band tonight at the Boys Town auditorium.

OU Debaters Test Strength

Two sets of University debaters were "encouragingly successful" last weekend. According to J. D. Tyson, debate coach, "both trips proved to be highly informative and useful."

Teams of Duane Post-Ted Romberg and Marie Jipp-Bernice Larson vied at Emporia State Teachers College, Emporia, Kans.

Teams of Sharon Erdkamp-Jean Bednar, Donald Blau-Bob Dahlhoff and Arlyss Welch-Beatrice Hansen traveled to Wayne State Teachers College, Wayne, Nebr.

Post and Romberg won three out of five debates for the highest score, but Tyson reported that many "excellent" ratings were "more important to the teams than the win-loss record." Tyson said the most successful debate was given by Miss Erdkamp and Miss Bednar against a team from Nebraska Wesleyan, who won the tournament.

Tyson, Bruce Linton and Hedwig Nyholm accompanied the students to the tournaments.

Today freshman teams will compete at the University of Nebraska Freshman Debate Tournament. OU students attending will be Beatrice Hanson-Shirley Barnum, Ken Bauer-Mary Cosford and Glen Uhé-Marie Jipp. Miss Erdkamp, Romberg and Post will be judges at the tourney.

President's Breakfast Starts Refresher Classes for Staff

The fourth annual series of orientation and "refresher" meetings for non-instructional employees opened at a President's Breakfast at 8 a. m. in the Dec. 8 through 23 series is to enable employees to become better acquainted with President Milo Ball, academic deans and academic and administrative heads. It will also provide a method by which all employees can learn the objectives of the colleges and departments of the University.

The 8:30 a. m. to 9:30 a. m. meetings, held in room 209, are divided into two parts: "Academics and Guidance" and "Business and Other Non-Instructional Functions." Chairman of the first section is Dr. Donald Emery of the College of Adult Education. Charles Hoff, general chairman, is leader of the second section.

At the President's breakfast, Dr. Ball outlined some of his plans of the University and pointed out general policies that he expects all employees to follow.

Non-instructional employees attending these sessions include secretaries in the various colleges and departments, members of the Registrar's and business staffs, and other employees who do not teach academic classes. This series is not open to students.

Hoff believes that this series is the only one of its kind in the country. Inquiries have been coming to the University from other institutions wishing to promote such a program.

Grad Gets Doctorate

Marshall F. Ruchte, '49, has completed work for his Ph.D. degree. He will receive his doctorate in February at the University of Wisconsin with a thesis in the theory of numbers.

Ruchte will teach at Nebraska University.

Beauties Parade In Queen Contest

Three Omaha University coeds will smile their way to the titles of Tomahawk Beauty Queen and her attendants this afternoon. The three top beauties of the University will be chosen from a field of 34 contestants, representing four social sororities, Independents and unaffiliated students.

The beauty parade will begin at 2 p. m. in the auditorium. The contestants will be judged on poise, carriage, personality and beauty. They will appear in formal and street length dresses before any eliminating rounds begin.

Combo Plays

Background music will be provided by a five-man combo of Steve Schwid, John Vana, Wayne Wagner, Irv Jones and Jack Irwin. Dick Palmquist will be master of ceremonies and will tell the activities, interests and vital statistics of each candidate as she appears on the stage. There will be three judges for the event. Their identity will remain a secret until the contest begins.

Thirty-four Vie

Contestants for the Beauty Queen title include Arlene Meyer, Diane Cooper, Gloria Kohan and Barbara Fink, unaffiliated; Sally Renna, Jean Madden, Pat Kavan, Carole Bell, Norma Cooper and Connie Eade, from Zeta Tau Alpha.

Sigma Kappa candidates are Carol Lee Budatz, Dorothy Traynor, Barbara Pugh, Edwina Hockanson, Patty Su DuVal and Virginia Cline. Bernadene Raymond, Sharon Knowles, Nancy Bodnar, Elaine Morgan, Mary Richardson and Dorothy Myers will represent Independents.

Corinne House, Joan Clawson, Elinor DeWitt, Janet Brace, Dona Wells and Shirley Kurtz, from Chi Omega, and Alpha Xi Delta's Marianne Bowley, Delores Rigg, Josephine Runa, Dorothy Seig, Ruth Waschneik and Joan Willey complete the list of candidates.

Derelle Blumer, chairman of the 1953 contest, invites the University faculty and students. Miss Blumer received the props for the stage from Brandeis and Goldstein-Chapman.

Holiday Atmosphere Dominates Campus

With Christmas vacation four days away, University halls and rooms have blossomed into a profusion of Yule decorations.

The Faculty Clubroom sports a festive tree and holiday centerpieces on the fireplace mantel and tables.

The Brush and Easel Club made its Christmas project the third floor center showcase. The window follows "the night before Christmas" theme. It is complete with Santa, a fireplace, tree, dolls, a cat and a mouse.

A traditional Christmas greeting from President and Mrs. Milo Ball fills one window on second floor. A Christmas scene occupies the other window.

The spirit of Christmas moved into the Shack, too. A large tree dominates the decorations.

Christmas candles in a centerpiece decorate the Cafeteria serving tables.

White Snow Scene Theme For Formal

Blue, white and silver is the color theme of the "Fantasy in Frost," Zeta Tau Alpha's annual pre-Christmas formal. The dance will be held Dec. 17 at the Peony Park Ballroom.

Eddy Haddad and his orchestra has been provided to play for the semi-formal affair which is open to all Greeks.

The intermission ceremonies will include a winter skit consisting of six girls dressed as snow balls doing a dance sequence. A quartet will also sing a few selections of winter songs.

Janet Johnson is dance chairman while Mary Jane Jeter is in charge of the intermission skit. Jo Ann Doyle is chairman of decorations and Jane Anderson is program chairman.

Sponsors for the evening are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beck, Mr. and Mrs. George Kiffin, Mr. and Mrs. Kilbourn Janecek, Mr. and Mrs. George Pritchard and Lieutenant and Mrs. Allen Wood.

Administration Tenure Policy Gives Regents Mar. 15 Limit

A misunderstanding concerning the University's hiring policy resulted in some confusion when the Board of Regents approved rehiring 19 faculty members last week.

University President Milo Ball explained that the hiring policy is a complicated procedure. Assistant instructors and instructors are appointed for a one-year period. The Board must approve a reappointment each year.

Assistant professors may be hired for a one-year or a three-year term. Assistant professors and professors may receive permanent academic tenure. This means that no one with tenure may be released involuntarily unless the University is suffering a financial crisis, or there is evidence of "moral turpitude or incompetence" on the part of the faculty member.

A statement in the Tenure Policy of the University states that "an instructor may take it for granted that he will be reappointed . . . unless he receives notice on or before the fifteenth day of March immediately preceding the expiration of his latest appointment year that he will not or may not be reappointed."

Dr. Ball said that the list of faculty members was "extremely long." Only a part of the list was approved Tuesday because of time limitations. More reappointments will be made before the March deadline.

Classroom' Features Interviews by Emery

A two-week information series will replace the regular TV Classroom programs on KMTV during the Christmas holidays.

Dr. Donald G. Emery of the College of Adult Education will interview the deans of the five colleges of the University beginning Dec. 22. Some instructors may take over the interview chores during the time.

Dr. Milo Ball will be featured on the Christmas Day program. He will bring greetings to the TV Classroom students. There will also be a choral music film.

The special series will be followed by the regularly scheduled classroom series. Martin Bush of the music department will begin a four-week course in "Music Masterpieces" Jan. 5.

arOund Guests at Tea Find Smoker

The Deans' Tea, Dec. 3, turned into a smoker even before guests arrived.

Dean Mary Padou Young lit the logs in the faculty clubroom fireplace and shortly discovered the chimney flue had not been opened.

Smoke filled the room, and the Tea was held in the East Cafeteria.

Uniforms Shape Fashions

The four-button roll blue suit has saturated the fashion market this season as a St. Joseph (Mo.) clothier fitted the latest mass of AF-ROTC students at OU.

In some cases, however, our St. Joseph friend went off on the established procedure in tailoring. Some of the poor, misfitted future Steve Canyons felt like they were occupying tents.

Dan Langevin swore he could turn about face inside of his uniform without moving the coat.

Gorden Morphew had an efficient ventilating system in his uniform. A full six inches of air separated the lad from the tunic of his jacket.

Policemen Take Tests

The City of Omaha's bristling police force put its prospective members through the physical paces last Tuesday as Dean W. H. Thompson administered the annual entrance tests at Omaha U's Fieldhouse.

The billy clubbers really made their future flat feet fly around the track in the speed and endurance test.

The physical tests administered at OU were started back in 1948, according to Dean W. H. Thompson.

If the tests keep up with the physical prowess of the Force, the local purse snatchers will have to go in training to out-run fleet lawmen.

Derbyshire Sought for Joke

A delegation of pre-med students used their powers of persuasion this week on the elusive professor of Zoology, Dr. Russell Derbyshire.

The eager students wanted the gay Doctor to tell his famous story about "the male alligator—the greatest benefactor of mankind" at the pre-med banquet. Who knows, maybe the scientific jokester added his bit of humor to liven up the dinner meeting.

Chorus Sings Again

It seems the fame of the Colonel's Chorus, AF-ROTC glee club, has spread throughout the city. Last Friday they sang before a meeting of the Omaha Kiwanis Club.

They were given a terrific reception by the Kiwanians.

Words of wisdom in 1941 from Roderic Crane, economics professor were: "Courses should be taught on such a level that class work contributes definitely to the knowledge and scope of the course. With that assumption in mind, anyone who could pass a course without attending is a wizard and should be commended for his performance."

Battered Planes Equipment Of Former Training Program

No, the three training planes enclosed by the fence East of the Engineering Annex did not crash land there, although their condition might substantiate that theory.

The planes, a P-47, a Fairchild PT-19 and what remains of a Stearman PT-17, were once an active part of the discontinued aircraft mechanic training program, which flourished during the '40's.

The planes were acquired for use in the OU Civil Air Patrol approved training class. The class, which was a vocational rather than a regular accredited college course, trained people to do aircraft work in factories such as the wartime Martin bomber plant.

During the war the classes occupied what is now the Student Center. The building was erected especially to house the training program.

The University acquired the planes with the understanding that the trainers, although air-worthy, would be used for mechanical instruction only and would not be used for flying.

Popular With Vets

The program died in 1949 due to insufficient student interest. William Durand, now instructor of physics and engineering, was head instructor of the training program when it originated in 1940.

According to Durand, the enrollment of classes reached its peak immediately after the war when many veterans desired mechanic instruction to obtain civilian aircraft jobs.

Three to four full time instructors were employed to teach the quarterly classes of from 50 to 75 students.

In 1948 the program was moved to the newly constructed East quonset hut on campus.

"Actually, students did more damage in overhauling the planes than if the trainers had been flown thousands of hours," quipped Durand.

The Fairchild was donated to the program by a man from Lincoln. The plane was flown from Lincoln and landed at Durand's flying field, called Durand's Sky Ranch, at 84th and McKinley Streets.

Dismantle Plane

The plane was then dismantled and transported from the field to the University by truck.

Since the planes are no longer used, the University has been trying to sell them, according to J. S. Dellere, University purchasing agent.

In order to sell the planes, the University must first find a buyer, then get permission from the government. Whole planes, rather

In The Past . . .

What has happened to the Tom Tom Revue?

Students, faculty members and old grads will hardly be able to recognize the former Tom Tom Revue this year. The show has been transformed into a musical comedy which will follow the framework of a Broadway professional production.

Dr. Edwin Clark, Dr. Robert Fister and Richard Brewer will advise the production staff on the dramatics, instrumental and vocal parts of the show. But the show will incorporate various student acts within the professional framework.

It is obvious from the Freshman Talent Show that the University students possess talent. And it is about time the University talent was presented in a more professional show.

Last year, Berkley Forsythe and Rollie Kopfleisch wrote an original musical, which was very well received. This year's show should be even better on the basis of the professional framework.

Although the musical comedy will probably cost more than did the amateur shows, it should be well worth the extra expense. Let us hope that this move will carry the University out of some of its doldrums.

And while the show is being improved, why not leave the name "Tom Tom Revue" behind with the old type of show?

than parts, must be sold at a time.

Last fall the Fairchild caught fire during an OU football game.

The fire, which was probably started by a cigarette, burned the fuselage before it could be controlled.

The fence around the equipment was built to keep people from dismantling the planes.

So, for the thing you want most in a cigarette... for better taste — cleaner, fresher, smoother taste... Be Happy — Go Lucky!

Nation-wide survey based on actual student interviews in 80 leading colleges reveals more smokers prefer Luckies than any other cigarette by a wide margin. No. 1 reason — Luckies' better taste. Seven Teams Land Men On 'Mural All-Star Squad

Sig Ep, Pi Kap Footballers Dominate Intramural Team

By Frank Schuchart

All seven of the competing teams contributed players to the first annual All-Intramural Football team. Sticking to the modern trend of two platoons, the Gateway-sponsored squad for 1952 includes 22 different players holding positions on offensive and defensive squads.

A team was chosen according to lots cast by competing teams. Even, four of the squads failed to turn in all-opponent teams and selections had to be made on the basis of the three ballots cast.

Sigma Phi Epsilon, league champs, which finished the season unbeat, untied and unscored, landed four players on the defensive platoon and two on the offense. The Sig Ep defense was undoubtedly the high spot of the options, as their record shows.

Three of the crucial games for leaders, including contests with F-ROTC, Pi Kappa Alpha and Blackhawks, the Sig Ep defense was the deciding factor.

Kappa Alpha, second in the race, was close on the heels of Sigma Phi Epsilon with a total of five players making the select team. Three of the Pi Kaps were on offense with two making the defensive squad.

Blackhawks gridders hold down four positions on the All-Star squad, with two on each of the platoons. AF-ROTC has two players on the offensive platoon and one on the defensive squad.

ISA Gets Two

Independent Student Association players hold down two positions on offense. Theta Chi and Lambda Chi have one player each on the defensive team.

Players on the offensive squad include Ralph Pettit, Blackhawks, and Lee Nelson, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Lew Radcliffe, AF-ROTC, and Don Seibler, Pi Kappa Alpha, tackles; Jim Lostovica, Pi Kappa Alpha, and Angelo Manzitto, Blackhawks, guards, and Dale Women, ISA, center.

The backs on offense include Bob Moscrey, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Charlie Platt, Pi Kappa Alpha; Bob Chedester, AF-ROTC, and Joe Hanna, ISA.

Defensive Players

Defensive selections include Ken Olson, Pi Kappa Alpha, and Fred Shinrock, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Lowell Huber, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Ralph Whitney, Sigma Phi Epsilon, tackles, and Bob Mackie, Blackhawks, center.

Merlyn Fratt, Theta Chi; Tom Mosiman, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Don Blocker, Pi Kappa Alpha, combine as defensive linebackers, while Nick Adzick, Blackhawks; Dick Westin, AF-ROTC, and Dick Kimball, Lambda Chi Alpha, team in the backfield secondary positions.

Gridders Make Final Appearance Tomorrow

Omaha University football will make its last appearance of the 1952 season tomorrow night. The OU gridders will be tested by the Omaha Quarterback Club at a banquet tomorrow night at the Fontenelle Hotel.

The dinner will start at 6:30 p. m. with a dance following at 9:30 p. m. Students are urged to turn out to support their gridders.

Tickets can be purchased from Mrs. Jean Pettit, acting Alumni Secretary. Tickets for both the dinner and the dance may be purchased for $2.50 while the dance alone is $1.00 per couple.

Jay Bellaire's Orchestra will play for the dance which lasts until 1 a. m.

The Quarterback Club, which is sponsoring the banquet, has some fine entertainment in store for those on hand.

Dave Noble, one time University of Nebraska football great, and now an official in the Big Ten football circuit, will be the main speaker of the evening.

Ed Morgan, sports editor of Radio Station KBOB will serve as master of ceremonies.

Intramural Council Plans Basketball At Friday Meeting

The main topic of the Intramural Council meeting Friday was basketball.

Ernie Gorr, intramural advisor, stated that 10 teams have officially entered, but he expects four more entries. The teams are Sig Ep's, Delta Sig, P. E. Majors, Air Force ROTC, Pikes, Lambda Chi, Theta Chi, Sioux's, Pawnees and Blackhawks.

Each team is entitled to an A and B squad. The A team will carry the most points. After the first game, A members will not be able to move to B teams.

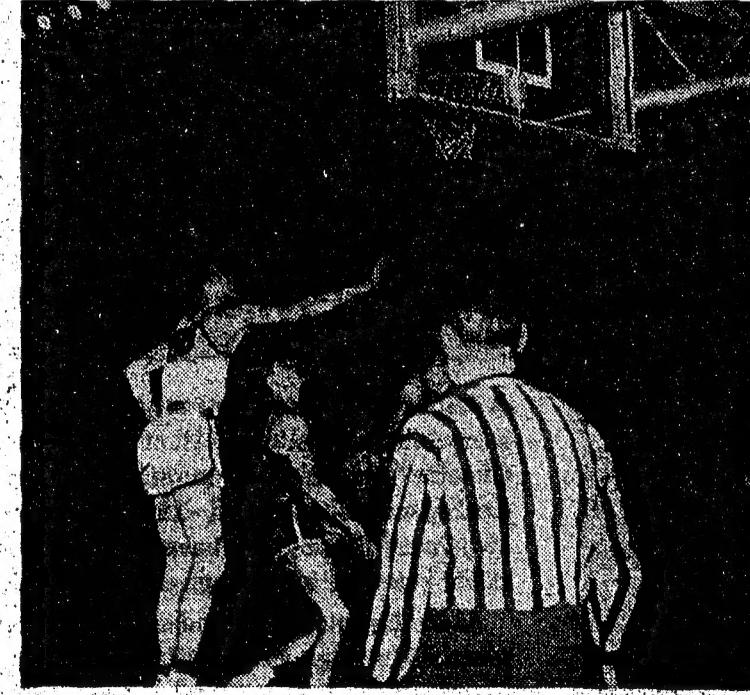

Practice sessions will begin next week. Each team is given a certain day a week for practice. Intramural managers must contact Ernie Gorr for time and day of practice.

Intramural managers must hand in a list of all boys participating in basketball, and these boys must have had a physical examination this year.

Games will be played every day except Friday, and the probable starting time will be 1 p. m.

Handbooks will be handed out explaining the rules and regulations, and the schedule will be posted Dec. 11, on bulletin boards, and in a future Gateway.

An All-Intramural basketball team will be picked at the end of the season.

Lanky Fred Shinrock had the ball, but it's out of the camera's view.

Mackie Hits 23

To Pace Indians Past Morningside

Bantam Bob Mackie's 23 points paced Omaha University to its second victory of the year Saturday with a 65-57 win over Morningside College.

It was learned last week that President Milo Ball has turned the question over to the two committees for consideration.

The

Groups Consider Lights in Stadium

The question of lights for the Omaha University stadium now rests in the hands of the Faculty Athletic Committee and the Regents Athletic Committee.

It was learned last week that President Milo Ball has turned the question over to the two committees for consideration.

The groups are scheduled to discuss the situation at a combined meeting sometime before Christmas vacation and present their findings to the Board of Regents.

The actual decision will be made by the Board of Regents after the first of the year.

They will make their decision according to recommendations of not only the combined committees but also from suggestions made by President Ball and Athletic Director Virgil Yelkin.

ISA Keglers Win, Take First Place

ISA swept three games from Pi Kappa Alpha in intramural bowling Thursday afternoon, and intramural managers must contact Ernie Gorr for time and day of practice.

ISA is proving to be the toughest team in the league, and they will be tough to knock out of the first division.

Lambda Chi had a hard time taking two out of three from an improving Phi Ep team.

Sig Ep's took two out of three from Theta Chi. These two teams were heavy favorites at the first of the season, but both have been disappointments.

Ernie Gorr indicated that he would like all teams to be at full strength on Thursdays, making it possible to eliminate the straw man.

OU Entertains Peru In Home Encounter

Shooting for their third consecutive victory, Omaha University will play host to the Peru State Teachers tonight in the Indian Fieldhouse.

Game time is 8 p. m., with a Papoose tilt preceding it at 6 p. m.

Coach Virgil Yelkin's cagers, who have run both hot and cold in previous games, will have to be hot at the right times tonight to get past a tough Bobcat five.

The barrage on the Omaha basket will probably be led by Bob Davis, stringbean Peru center. Last season Davis, who hooks 'em in with either hand, potted 24 and 28 points against the Indians. Davis stands 6-5.

OU favorites

One encouraging thing for the Omahans is the absence of Don Borschleig. Borschleig, who has pestered OU for the past three seasons, completed his eligibility last season.

Omaha will be the favorites to-night if they continue to show the hustle and teamwork they have in the first two games.

Tonight's battle will be the last home tilt for the Indians this year. Friday night the OU hoopers will invade Topeka, Kans., to clash with Washburn University.

Saturday night they move to Fort Hays, Kans. Dec. 15 Omaha will tackle Wayne State Teachers for the 1952 finale. The game will be played on the Wayne floor.

Mackie to start

Bob Mackie's performance against Morningside will undoubtedly give him one of the starting guard jobs tonight. Teaming with Mackie at the other guard position will be Ralph Pettit or Fred Shinrock.

Lee Nelson will open at center, with Bob Rose and Don Claussen at the forward slots.

Students will be admitted by activity card. Adult tickets may be purchased at the ticket window.

Red Cross Group Gives Vets Party

By Corinne Houser

A Christmas party was held at the Veterans Hospital Thursday night by OU volunteer workers.

To arouse the patient's holiday spirit, Terry Young led community singing of old favorites and Christmas carols.

Barbara Pugh, in charge of entertainment, kept up the pace by sending the group through several relays and a scavenger hunt. The men particularly enjoyed the Hokey Pokey and asked to have it repeated.

Following the game period, one of the patients gave a drum solo while refreshments were served by Red Cross Canteen workers.

Helping to entertain were Joan Olsen, Chuck French, Barbara Pugh, Gloria Peterson, Mary Richardson, Vivian Cotton, Vicki Morris, Jo Strobel, Jo Ann Eastman, Bette Poska, Marilyn Plotkin and Beverly Pace.

Others were Corinne Houser, Virginia McCoubrie, Pat Johnson, Anne Fane, Terry Young, Doug Wright, Fred Healea, Ted Larson, Bob Osborn and Bob Lynch.

The game room of the hospital was gaily decorated with Santa Clauses and Christmas trees.

Committee heads were Gloria Peterson, decorations; Doug Wright, transportation; Barbara Pugh, games; Fred Healea, posters, and Joan Olsen, calling.

Cotillion Participants Swing In Waltz Time

Blue lights on silver will set the mood for the annual all-school Sophomore Cotillion this year.

The eighteenth century atmossphere will be set by silver chandeliers hanging from the middle of the ballroom and also on either side of the door holding back a swath of silver material. Blue lights will illuminate the chandelier in the middle of the ballroom. A silver Christmas tree will decorate the stage.

During intermission a waltz sequence has been planned. The girls will wear formals in pastel, red and white.

Mal Dunn and his orchestra will play for the dance which will be held Friday at Peony Park. Admission will be by activity card for each student attending.

Sponsors for the dance will be Mr. and Mrs. William Utley, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hampton and Maj. and Mrs. Robert Whaley.

Home Economics Club Organizes Bake Sale

The Home Economics club will hold a bake sale at Crestwood, Sixtieth and Woolworth, Dec. 13.

Each member of the club will be requested to bring a specific baked good for variety of produce.

The next meeting will be held Dec. 8 at 4 p. m. in room 207. A discussion of the Bake Sale and also the postponed Christmas party for the orphans will be had.

Alpha Phi Omega Plans Yule Caroling Party

Alpha Phi Omega, the men's service organization, will have a caroling date party on Dec. 20.

They will carol at the Children's Hospital, Vet's, and County Hospital. Afterwards there will be a party. Maynard Tatleman is in charge.

APO will also celebrate Founder's Day on Dec. 16 with their alumni.

Brush and Easel Club

The Brush and Easel, art club, met last Thursday to make plans for a Christmas party during vacation.

A project done by the commercial art majors of the club is now being shown in the display window on the third floor of the University.

A Christmas theme was used with a fireplace and Christmas tree and very colorful toys and packages placed around it.

THEY SATISFY AND HOW!

"I always smoked Chesterfields in college just like my friends" says New York secretary, Elizabeth Lydon, "and here in New York it seems like almost everyone smokes them."

AND NOW—CHESTERFIELD FIRST TO GIVE YOU SCIENTIFIC FACTS IN SUPPORT OF SMOKING

A responsible consulting organization reports a study by a competent medical specialist and staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfields. For six months a group of men and women smoked only Chesterfield—10 to 40 a day—their normal amount. 45 percent of the group have smoked Chesterfields from one to thirty years for an average of ten years each.

At the beginning and end of the six-months, each smoker was given a thorough examination including X-rays, and covering the sinuses, nose, ears and throat. After these examinations, the medical specialist stated . . .

"It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."

Remember this report and buy Chesterfields . . . regular or king-size.
